2.4 During and subsequent to my internship with the Silicon Labs Group, I will perform all acts necessary to permit and assist Silicon Labs in documenting, perfecting, obtaining, maintaining, defending, and enforcing Intellectual Property Rights and/or my assignment with respect to such Inventions in any and all countries. This includes executing documents and cooperating in legal proceedings. I agree that such actions will be without compensation, but at Silicon Labs' expense. I irrevocably designate and appoint Silicon Labs and its duly authorized officers and agents, as my agents and attorneys-in-fact to act for and on my behalf and instead of me, to execute and file any documents and to do all other lawfully permitted acts to further the above purposes with the same legal force and effect as if executed by me.

2.5 Any assignment of copyright hereunder includes all rights of paternity, integrity, disclosure, and withdrawal, and any other rights that may be known as or referred to as "Moral Rights." If Moral Rights cannot be assigned under applicable law and the following is allowed by the laws in the various countries where Moral Rights exist, I waive such Moral Rights and consent to any action of Silicon Labs that would violate such Moral Rights in the absence of such consent. I will confirm any such waivers and consents from time to time as requested by Silicon Labs.

2.6 Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 19(4) of the Copyright Act, 1957, all the assignment under this Agreement in so far as it relates to copyrightable material shall not lapse nor the rights transferred therein revert to me, even if Silicon Labs does not exercise the rights under the assignment within a period of one year from the date of assignment. I waive any right to and shall not raise any objection or claims to the Copyright Board with respect to the assignment, pursuant to Section 19A of the Copyright Act, 1957.

2.7 I will not create any Inventions that are unoriginal or defame the Silicon Labs Group, its employees, officers, directors, consultants, agents, or any third party or constitute a violation of the rights of privacy of Silicon Labs' other employees or any third party.

2.8 I will keep complete, accurate, and authentic information and records on all Inventions. Such information and records, including copies, will be Silicon Labs' property and are considered Proprietary Information and therefore subject to Article 1. I will promptly surrender all such original and electronic or printed copies of such information and records when requested or within 24 hours from the end of my internship.

2.9 I acknowledge and agree that nothing in this Agreement grants me, by implication, estoppel or otherwise: (a) a license to any rights in a Silicon Labs Invention or any Ownership Rights therein or (b) a license regarding and of Silicon Labs' existing or future Ownership Rights. If I desire to identify and state specifically that certain prior inventions are not subject to this Agreement (collectively, "Retained Inventions"), I will complete the Retained Inventions Statement attached as Schedule A to this Agreement. If I incorporate or help incorporate any Retained Inventions into an Invention, product or service, or rely upon any Retained Invention in discovering, developing, creating, conceiving, or reducing to practice any Invention, product or service, I hereby grant to the Company a nonexclusive, paid-up, assignable, irrevocable, perpetual, worldwide, royalty-free license that can be sub-licensed (through one or multiple tiers), to all Intellectual Property Rights in such Retained Inventions.

(c) which results from any work performed for Silicon Labs or the use of Silicon Labs' equipment, supplies, facilities or information.

2.3 I assign and agree to assign to Silicon Labs all of my rights to any Inventions (and all Intellectual Property Rights with respect thereto), absolutely and forever, throughout the world and for the full term of each right, including renewals and extensions. All Inventions, in whatever form, is Silicon Labs' property and Silicon Labs shall be the sole owner of all Intellectual Property Rights in connection with such Inventions. Silicon Labs may freely develop and alter such Inventions, and license, sub-license and assign them to third parties without obtaining my prior consent. If any Invention or Intellectual Property Rights cannot be assigned under applicable law, I grant to Silicon Labs an exclusive, paid-up, assignable, irrevocable, perpetual, worldwide, royalty-free, unlimited license that can be sublicensed (through one or multiple tiers), to use, reproduce, distribute, create derivative works of, publicly perform, publicly display and digitally perform and display such work in any media or form now known or hereafter known. Outside the scope of my service, I agree not to (a) distribute, modify, adapt, alter, translate, or create derivative works from any such work of authorship or (b) merge any such work of authorship with other Inventions.

2.4 During and subsequent to my internship with the Silicon Labs Group, I will perform all acts necessary to permit and assist Silicon Labs in documenting, perfecting, obtaining, maintaining, defending, and enforcing Intellectual Property Rights and/or my assignment with respect to such Inventions in any and all countries. This includes executing documents and cooperating in legal proceedings. I agree that such actions will be without compensation, but at Silicon Labs' expense. I irrevocably designate and appoint Silicon Labs and its duly authorized officers and agents, as my agents and attorneys-in-fact to act for and on my behalf and instead of me, to execute and file any documents and to do all other lawfully permitted acts to further the above purposes with the same legal force and effect as if executed by me.

2.5 Any assignment of copyright hereunder includes all rights of paternity, integrity, disclosure, and withdrawal, and any other rights that may be known as or referred to as "Moral Rights." If Moral Rights cannot be assigned under applicable law and the following is allowed by the laws in the various countries where Moral Rights exist, I waive such Moral Rights and consent to any action of Silicon Labs that would violate such Moral Rights in the absence of such consent. I will confirm any such waivers and consents from time to time as requested by Silicon Labs.

2.6 Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 19(4) of the Copyright Act, 1957, all the assignment under this Agreement in so far as it relates to copyrightable material shall not lapse nor the rights transferred therein revert to me, even if Silicon Labs does not exercise the rights under the assignment within a period of one year from the date of assignment. I waive any right to and shall not raise any objection or claims to the Copyright Board with respect to the assignment, pursuant to Section 19A of the Copyright Act, 1957.

2.7 I will not create any Inventions that are unoriginal or defame the Silicon Labs Group, its employees, officers, directors, consultants, agents, or any third party or constitute a violation of the rights of privacy of Silicon Labs' other employees or any third party.

2.8 I will keep complete, accurate, and authentic information and records on all Inventions. Such information and records, including copies, will be Silicon Labs' property and are considered Proprietary Information and therefore subject to Article 1. I will promptly surrender all such original and electronic or printed copies of such information and records when requested or within 24 hours from the end of my internship.

2.9 I acknowledge and agree that nothing in this Agreement grants me, by implication, estoppel or otherwise: (a) a license to any rights in a Silicon Labs Invention or any Ownership Rights therein or (b) a license regarding and of Silicon Labs' existing or future Ownership Rights. If I desire to identify and state specifically that certain prior inventions are not subject to this Agreement (collectively, "Retained Inventions"), I will complete the Retained Inventions Statement attached as Schedule A to this Agreement. If I incorporate or help incorporate any Retained Inventions into an Invention, product or service, or rely upon any Retained Invention in discovering, developing, creating, conceiving, or reducing to practice any Invention, product or service, I hereby grant to the Company a nonexclusive, paid-up, assignable, irrevocable, perpetual, worldwide, royalty-free license that can be sub-licensed (through one or multiple tiers), to all Intellectual Property Rights in such Retained Inventions.

2.10 CONSENT TO PHOTOGRAPHY AND OTHER RECORDINGS. I agree that my name, voice, picture and likeness may be used in Silicon Labs' advertising, training aids, and other materials that relate to the business of Silicon Labs without payment of separate compensation to me. I will not issue or release any articles, advertising, publicity, or other matter relating to Silicon Labs, or provide any information regarding Silicon Labs to any other person intending to do so, without Silicon Labs' specific written consent.

3. CHOICE OF LAW

3.1 I agree and consent to service by mail of any paper initiating any suit, action, or proceeding at the address set forth on my pay statement. I will update my address with Silicon Labs whenever a change in address occurs. I waive any objection to service by mail where Silicon Labs addresses service to the most recent address provided by me.

3.2 I agree that the laws of India shall apply to any suit, action, or other legal proceeding arising out of or relating to this Agreement, regardless of any contrary common law or statutory provisions related to conflicts of laws. The courts at Hyderabad shall have exclusive jurisdiction over all disputes or claims between the Parties under this Agreement.

4. ASSIGNMENT. I will not assign my rights or delegate any duties or obligations under this Agreement. The Agreement will be binding upon my heirs, executors, administrators, and other legal representatives. The rights and obligations of Silicon Labs under this Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the successors and assigns of Silicon Labs and Silicon Labs may freely assign its rights hereunder.

5. SEVERABILITY. If any provision of this Agreement is held to be unenforceable, such provision will be distinct and severable from the other provisions of this Agreement, and such unenforceability will not affect the validity and enforceability of the remaining provisions. If a court holds that the Agreed Period, scope, or any other restriction stated in any provision of this Agreement is unreasonable under circumstances then existing, the parties agree that the maximum duration, scope, or other restriction that the court deems reasonable under such circumstances will be substituted and that the court will have the power to revise any of those restrictions to cover the maximum period, scope, and/or other restriction permitted by law. It is the intent of the parties that the court, in establishing any such substitute restriction, recognize that the parties' desire is that the stated restrictions upon which the parties have agreed be honored to the maximum lawful extent.

6. MISCELLANEOUS

6.1 The waiver by Silicon Labs of any provision of this Agreement, or the waiver by Silicon Labs of a breach of any provision of this Agreement by me, shall not operate or be construed as a further or continuing waiver of any subsequent breach by me.

6.2 This Agreement constitutes the sole and entire agreement between the parties relating to its subject matter, and it supersedes and cancels all previous written or verbal agreements or understandings between the parties except that this Agreement shall not be deemed to supersede or cancel any obligations of me under any deferred compensation or stock option award plan to which I may be a party.

INCENTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN PARTICIPATION

State Street's approach to employee compensation is based on total compensation and pay-for-performance. Employees generally have the opportunity to earn some type of variable, discretionary incentive pay in addition to base compensation through State Street's incentive compensation or structured incentive plans. Incentive compensation may be delivered in the form of immediate or deferred awards. Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. State Street's incentive compensation program is subject to the applicable guidance and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) and of other United States and international regulators, which may require that certain risk-mitigating features be included in your incentive awards. Should your position will be deemed a "material risk taker" position for FRB purposes, your incentive awards will be subject to applicable clawback/forfeiture requirements.

You will be eligible to be considered for annual discretionary incentive compensation awards under the State Street incentive compensation plan applicable to your role (the "Plan"). Awards under the Plan are made at the sole discretion of the Board or its delegate and are based upon company performance, individual performance, risk factors and such other factors as determined by the Board or its delegate. State Street may adjust the proportion of cash and deferred compensation in each award, the type, form and structure of deferred compensation, as well as the threshold for deferred compensation eligibility at any time

Incentive compensation awards are typically made in the first quarter of each calendar year. You must be employed on the date an award is made in order to earn and receive it.

HOURS OF WORK

You will be required to work 45 hours per week, your hours of work will be communicated to you by your manager. The requirements of your employment do call for some flexibility and you will be expected to work such hours as may be necessary for the proper and satisfactory performance of your duties without additional remuneration. You agree that you will not be entitled to any overtime compensation for additional hours devoted to your employment with the Company.

You may be required to work either on day or night shifts. The shift pattern you will be required to work will be determined and communicated to you by your manager. Your hours of work and shift timing may be subject to variation depending on the schedule operated by your respective team or department, for which you will be notified from time to time.

PROBATION PERIOD

For the first three months of your employment, you will be on probation ("Probation Period"), following which the Company may, at its sole discretion, either extend the Probation Period for any period of time (Extended Probation Period) or confirm your employment with the Company.

Your employment with the Company shall, after the completion of the Probation Period and after the completion of the Extended Probation Period, if any, be deemed to have been confirmed unless you, within a period of fifteen (15) days after the completion of the Probation Period and within a period of fifteen (15) days after the completion of the Extended Probation Period, if any, receive a notice of termination of your employment with the Company.

Without limiting those reasons, in the interest of transparency we believe it is important to let you know that as a condition of you completing the probation period, some roles require that you satisfactorily pass any relevant induction and training assessments which the Company requires you to undertake within the probation period. Your manager will be able to confirm if this applies to you.

Irrespective of who provides notice or initiates the termination, the Company may elect in its absolute discretion to make a payment in lieu of the whole or part of the notice period. The payment in lieu of notice will be calculated by reference to the amount the Company would have become liable to pay you if you had remained in employment and worked your ordinary hours until the end of the notice period.

If you successfully complete the Probation Period, your employment will continue to be governed by your Contract and the termination provisions listed will apply. For the avoidance of doubt, please also note that the Company may terminate your employment without notice during the Probation Period or Extended Probation Period, if any, in accordance with those provisions set out below (i.e. those relating to termination without notice).

TERMINATION WITH NOTICE

As a permanent employee, following the Probation Period, either you or the Company may terminate your employment at any time by giving to the other sixty (60) days written notice.

Irrespective of who provides notice or initiates the termination, the Company may elect in its absolute discretion to make a payment in lieu of the whole or part of any notice period. The payment in lieu of notice will be calculated by reference to the amount the Company would have become liable to pay you if you had remained in employment and worked your ordinary hours until the end of the notice period.

During the whole or part of any notice period, the Company may direct you:
(a) not to attend the workplace;
(b) not to contact or have any communication with its clients or customers;

INCENTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN PARTICIPATION

State Street's approach to employee compensation is based on total compensation and pay-for-performance. Employees generally have the opportunity to earn some type of variable, discretionary incentive pay in addition to base compensation through State Street's incentive compensation or structured incentive plans. Incentive compensation may be delivered in the form of immediate or deferred awards. Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. State Street's incentive compensation program is subject to the applicable guidance and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) and of other United States and international regulators, which may require that certain risk-mitigating features be included in your incentive awards. Should your position will be deemed a "material risk taker" position for FRB purposes, your incentive awards will be subject to applicable clawback/forfeiture requirements.

You will be eligible to be considered for annual discretionary incentive compensation awards under the State Street incentive compensation plan applicable to your role (the "Plan"). Awards under the Plan are made at the sole discretion of the Board or its delegate and are based upon company performance, individual performance, risk factors and such other factors as determined by the Board or its delegate. State Street may adjust the proportion of cash and deferred compensation in each award, the type, form and structure of deferred compensation, as well as the threshold for deferred compensation eligibility at any time

Incentive compensation awards are typically made in the first quarter of each calendar year. You must be employed on the date an award is made in order to earn and receive it.

INCENTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN PARTICIPATION

State Street's approach to employee compensation is based on total compensation and pay-for-performance. Employees generally have the opportunity to earn some type of variable, discretionary incentive pay in addition to base compensation through State Street's incentive compensation or structured incentive plans. Incentive compensation may be delivered in the form of immediate or deferred awards. Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. State Street's incentive compensation program is subject to the applicable guidance and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) and of other United States and international regulators, which may require that certain risk-mitigating features be included in your incentive awards. Should your position will be deemed a "material risk taker" position for FRB purposes, your incentive awards will be subject to applicable clawback/forfeiture requirements.

You will be eligible to be considered for annual discretionary incentive compensation awards under the State Street incentive compensation plan applicable to your role (the "Plan"). Awards under the Plan are made at the sole discretion of the Board or its delegate and are based upon company performance, individual performance, risk factors and such other factors as determined by the Board or its delegate. State Street may adjust the proportion of cash and deferred compensation in each award, the type, form and structure of deferred compensation, as well as the threshold for deferred compensation eligibility at any time

Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. INCENTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN PARTICIPATION

State Street's approach to employee compensation is based on total compensation and pay-for-performance. Employees generally have the opportunity to earn some type of variable, discretionary incentive pay in addition to base compensation through State Street's incentive compensation or structured incentive plans. Incentive compensation may be delivered in the form of immediate or deferred awards. Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. State Street's incentive compensation program is subject to the applicable guidance and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) and of other United States and international regulators, which may require that certain risk-mitigating features be included in your incentive awards. Should your position will be deemed a "material risk taker" position for FRB purposes, your incentive awards will be subject to applicable clawback/forfeiture requirements.

You will be eligible to be considered for annual discretionary incentive compensation awards under the State Street incentive compensation plan applicable to your role (the "Plan"). Awards under the Plan are made at the sole discretion of the Board or its delegate and are based upon company performance, individual performance, risk factors and such other factors as determined by the Board or its delegate. State Street may adjust the proportion of cash and deferred compensation in each award, the type, form and structure of deferred compensation, as well as the threshold for deferred compensation eligibility at any time

Incentive compensation awards are typically made in the first quarter of each calendar year. You must be employed on the date an award is made in order to earn and receive it.

These checks include verification of your professional experience and education credentials, fingerprinting and a review of your criminal and credit background.

As it is the Company's expectation that all background checks will be initiated prior to the employment commencing, the Company may terminate this contract immediately (without notice) and the employment will not commence if in the Company's opinion an unsatisfactory reference and/or background check is obtained. You also will be required to complete in a timely manner State Street's on-line Standard of Conduct (and Code of Ethics where applicable) certification and learning assessment upon commencement of employment, as a condition of continued employment.

REMUNERATION

Subject to the due compliance of the Employee's obligations stated herein you shall be entitled to a total gross salary of INR 300000, which will be paid monthly in equal instalments. The remuneration amount will be credited to your bank account on the last working day of each month. The details of your remuneration are included in Exhibit "A". The Company may provide an increase in the remuneration of the Employee at the sole discretion of the Company.

The Company shall be entitled at any time during your employment, and in any event on termination, howsoever arising, to deduct from your remuneration any monies due from you to the Company including but not limited to any amounts required to be withheld by the Company under any applicable taxation statute or when directed to do so by a government authority, or any outstanding loans.

The Company shall also reimburse any reasonable business expenses incurred by you on behalf of the Company, during your employment and arising out of the fulfilment of your responsibilities and duties.

INCENTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN PARTICIPATION

State Street's approach to employee compensation is based on total compensation and pay-for-performance. Employees generally have the opportunity to earn some type of variable, discretionary incentive pay in addition to base compensation through State Street's incentive compensation or structured incentive plans. Incentive compensation may be delivered in the form of immediate or deferred awards. Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. State Street's incentive compensation program is subject to the applicable guidance and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) and of other United States and international regulators, which may require that certain risk-mitigating features be included in your incentive awards. Should your position will be deemed a "material risk taker" position for FRB purposes, your incentive awards will be subject to applicable clawback/forfeiture requirements.

You will be eligible to be considered for annual discretionary incentive compensation awards under the State Street incentive compensation plan applicable to your role (the "Plan"). Awards under the Plan are made at the sole discretion of the Board or its delegate and are based upon company performance, individual performance, risk factors and such other factors as determined by the Board or its delegate. State Street may adjust the proportion of cash and deferred compensation in each award, the type, form and structure of deferred compensation, as well as the threshold for deferred compensation eligibility at any time

Incentive compensation awards are typically made in the first quarter of each calendar year. You must be employed on the date an award is made in order to earn and receive it.

INCENTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN PARTICIPATION

Employees generally have the opportunity to earn some type of variable, discretionary incentive pay in addition to base compensation through State Street's incentive compensation or structured incentive plans. Incentive compensation may be delivered in the form of immediate or deferred awards. Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. State Street's incentive compensation program is subject to the applicable guidance and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) and of other United States and international regulators, which may require that certain risk-mitigating features be included in your incentive awards. Should your position will be deemed a "material risk taker" position for FRB purposes, your incentive awards will be subject to applicable clawback/forfeiture requirements.

You will be eligible to be considered for annual discretionary incentive compensation awards under the State Street incentive compensation plan applicable to your role (the "Plan"). Awards under the Plan are made at the sole discretion of the Board or its delegate and are based upon company performance, individual performance, risk factors and such other factors as determined by the Board or its delegate. INCENTIVE COMPENSATION PLAN PARTICIPATION

State Street's approach to employee compensation is based on total compensation and pay-for-performance. Employees generally have the opportunity to earn some type of variable, discretionary incentive pay in addition to base compensation through State Street's incentive compensation or structured incentive plans. Incentive compensation may be delivered in the form of immediate or deferred awards. Receipt of incentive compensation is subject to the terms and conditions of the applicable plan and deferred award documents approved by the Board of Directors of State Street Corporation (the "Board") or its delegate as in effect from time to time, including any forfeiture and/or clawback provisions therein. Although State Street intends to continue to use incentive compensation and structured incentive plans to reward performance indefinitely, it may amend, modify or terminate its plans and programs at any time. State Street's incentive compensation program is subject to the applicable guidance and regulations of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (FRB) and of other United States and international regulators, which may require that certain risk-mitigating features be included in your incentive awards. Should your position will be deemed a "material risk taker" position for FRB purposes, your incentive awards will be subject to applicable clawback/forfeiture requirements.

You will be eligible to be considered for annual discretionary incentive compensation awards under the State Street incentive compensation plan applicable to your role (the "Plan"). Awards under the Plan are made at the sole discretion of the Board or its delegate and are based upon company performance, individual performance, risk factors and such other factors as determined by the Board or its delegate. State Street may adjust the proportion of cash and deferred compensation in each award, the type, form and structure of deferred compensation, as well as the threshold for deferred compensation eligibility at any time

Incentive compensation awards are typically made in the first quarter of each calendar year. You must be employed on the date an award is made in order to earn and receive it.
