The buzz around CMR UNIVERSITY (SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT) was that a new fashion designer was making her debut, students didn't want to miss this event. As the fashion club guest entered the venue area, there was huge banner which was hanging by the wall and boldly stated the name of the event as 'Glitz-The Fashion Show'. The fashion show atmosphere was filled with glamorous music. There was a fragrance of sandalwood throughout the room and the room was strategically arranged with numbering on each seat. Decoration elements were all over the place. The ambience was kept very artistic, designed with vivid and minimal colors. As a Graphic Designer, I liked the design of the brochure and banners hanging inside the hall very much. There was almost an eight by 10 foot long, elevated runway extending through the heart of the room with seats surrounding each side. In attendance were about two-hundred students as well as professionals from fashion industry who were reading over the program schedule, chatting and finding their seats to sit. Students was fortunate enough to get a front row seat and my view to the stage was clear though there were some photographers and media people who were still adjusting the setup so that they do not miss any angle of the models walking up the ramp.

the lights suddenly got dimmed and the noise among the crowd got faded. It was the time for the moment to begin! The anchor, who willingly looked very gorgeous, took over the stage and announced the entry of the first collection which was by a local designer from Kochi, Kerala. The first model appeared from behind the stage and started the cat-walk on the ramp. She was wearing a vivid fuchsia and turquoise swimming suit with a beautiful, flowing chiffon cover-up of the same colours, with a twist of lemon yellow and matching shoes. For once I felt that I was on an exotic island in the Caribbean. As she mesmerized the audience. People began to clap and cheer.

The fashion show consisted of thirty-five models, both male and female. They all wore tasteful garments in wonderful colors and fabrics. The designer said she was inspired by the personal style of women from different continents and culture, which explains how far-ranging in style the collection was.

A women would be washing clothes in a river, a man throws garbage in the same river , a women drew water from the same river . School of management , CMR UNIVERSITY Making Contest was held on 10th April 2018

At AV HALL , CITY campus CMR University . The competition was held by the school of management The theme for the competition was Consumer Solidarity. Consumer Solidarity means unity or agreement of feeling or action, especially among consumers with a common interest, mutual support within a group. Consumer solidarity emphasizes the interdependence between consumers in a society, which allows individuals to feel that they can enhance the lives of others. It is a core principle of collective action and is founded on shared values and beliefs among different groups in society. Consumers can express their solidarity by forming consumer groups that write articles or hold exhibitions against traders' exploitation. These groups guide individuals on how to approach a consumer court, and they even fight cases for consumers. There were 28 students that took part in this competition. The buzz around CMR UNIVERSITY (SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT) was that a new fashion designer was making her debut, students didn't want to miss this event. As the fashion club guest entered the venue area, there was huge banner which was hanging by the wall and boldly stated the name of the event as 'Glitz-The Fashion Show'. The fashion show atmosphere was filled with glamorous music. There was a fragrance of sandalwood throughout the room and the room was strategically arranged with numbering on each seat. Decoration elements were all over the place. The ambience was kept very artistic, designed with vivid and minimal colors. As a Graphic Designer, I liked the design of the brochure and banners hanging inside the hall very much. There was almost an eight by 10 foot long, elevated runway extending through the heart of the room with seats surrounding each side. In attendance were about two-hundred students as well as professionals from fashion industry who were reading over the program schedule, chatting and finding their seats to sit. Students was fortunate enough to get a front row seat and my view to the stage was clear though there were some photographers and media people who were still adjusting the setup so that they do not miss any angle of the models walking up the ramp.

from behind the stage and started the cat-walk on the ramp. She was wearing a vivid fuchsia and turquoise swimming suit with a beautiful, flowing chiffon cover-up of the same colours, with a twist of lemon yellow and matching shoes. For once I felt that I was on an exotic island in the Caribbean. As she mesmerized the audience. People began to clap and cheer.

The fashion show consisted of thirty-five models, both male and female. They all wore tasteful garments in wonderful colors and fabrics. The designer said she was inspired by the personal style of women from different continents and culture, which explains how far-ranging in style the collection was.
